Sustainable Agriculture Signs

Have you noticed the new signs starting to pop up in Leduc County and County of Wetaskiwin?"

They look like this:

Sustainable Agriculture Program

feeding on-farm change through knowledge and support

What is sustainable agriculture?

Simply put, sustainable agriculture can be defined as nourishing people today, while planning for the needs of tomorrow.

Sustainable Agriculture Program

The sustainable agriculture program has been provided through a 14-year partnership between Leduc County and the County of Wetaskiwin.

The program promotes the awareness and adoption of beneficial management practices (BMP) as they pertain to land and water resources. BMPs are management practices that reduce environmental risk. A tool to help farmers identify environmental risks and management opportunities on their operation is the Environmental Farm Plan (EFP).

Growing Forward 2 (GF2), a federal, provincial and territorial initiative, has environmental grant funding for agriculture producers such as On-Farm Stewardship and Confined Feeding Operation Stewardship. There are many other programs funded through Growing Forward 2, such as On-Farm Water Management and On-Farm Energy.

The Sustainable Agriculture Program manager can assist resident farmers with GF2 applications and EFP completion.
